The California Insurance Code requires an insurer to provide uninsured motorists coverage in each bodily injury liability insurance policy it issues covering liability arising out of the ownership, maintenance, or use of a motor vehicle. Those provisions also permit the insurer and the applicant to delete the coverage completely or to delete the coverage when a motor vehicle is operated by a natural person or persons designated by name. Uninsured motorists coverage insures the insured, his or her heirs, or legal representatives for all sums within the limits established by law, which the person or persons are legally entitled to recover as damages for bodily injury, including any resulting sickness, disease, or death, to the insured from the owner or operator of an uninsured motor vehicle not owned or operated by the insured or a resident of the same household. An uninsured motor vehicle includes an underinsured motor vehicle as defined in subdivision (p) of Section 11580.2 of the Insurance Code.

UNINSURED MOTORISTS PROPERTY DAMAGE COVERAGE

Under California law, it is required, provided Uninsured Motorists Coverage for bodily injury is not deleted, where a policy of motor vehicle liability insurance does not include collision coverage on the insured motor vehicle, that the insurer offer to cover property damage on the insured motor vehicle (not including personal property therein) caused by the owner or operator of an uninsured motor vehicle. Such coverage of loss or damage by collision shall not exceed the motor vehicle's actual cash value or $3,500, whichever is less. The insured may elect not to accept such coverage or to waive such coverage when the motor vehicle is operated by a person or persons designated by name. Property damage does not include loss of use of the motor vehicle.
